CUMIERES VILLAGE
AFTER HARD FIGHT*Battle Around Verdun Continues With Unexampled
Violence.*HAMMER HARD AT TWO HILLS*Tentons Must Have Hill 304 and Dead
Man Hill to Forestall Flank Attack; Central Powers Seeking to Prevent a General Offensive of the Allies.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, May 24.—A powerful offensive was undertaken by the Germans last night to the east of Verdun, near the village of Cumieres. The attack, which was a general offensive, was repulsed after a hard fight. The Germans are now in possession of Cumieres village.

The battle around Verdun continues to rage with a violence unexampled even in this region. The Germans are striving with every resource to capture Hill 304 and Dead Man Hill, on the left bank of the Meuse, and to win back the famous fort, Douaumont, on the right bank, which was wrested from them by General Nivelle's brilliantly planned and executed offensive.

Without full possession of the line from Pepper Hill to Vaux fort the Germans cannot hope to get any nearer to the capture of Verdun. Even if they succeed in taking this line they could not hold it unless they were also in possession of Hill 304 and Dead Man Hill, which outflank the line.

Driven to desperation by seeing so much of its work undone the German command has hurled attack after attack against Fort Douaumont. At the same time it has kept up its onslaught on the left bank of the river to prevent the French transferring any forces to the main scene of attack.

All day yesterday the tide of war ebbed and flowed, inches of ground being won and lost at an appalling cost in men. As one French officer said:

"Plots of land come high here." Again and again after reducing trenches to a crumbling heap of ruins by a deluge of shells, the German infantry dashed forward only to be caught and swept away by a hurricane of certain fire from the French batteries and machine guns.

The conditions of the present war have transformed the traditional furious courage of the French soldiers into an immovable stoicism. Men have stood their ground unflinchingly in a situation which it seemed beyond human nature to support. When night fell last night the positions on both sides were unchanged. The French held firmly all their gains, while the Germans incurred fearful losses without getting near to any decision. Describing the battle around Fort Douaumont, one combatant said:

"For four miles behind us there was not a trench or a communication, nothing but shell holes, one within another. Every inch of the ground was plowed up by an expenditure of ammunition which is inconceivable. In holes made by 15-inch shells you could stable 15 horses easily. The few trees still standing have been stripped of their branches and look like telegraph poles. It is the absolute nation of desolation. Not for a second do the guns cease roaring or men cease falling. As soon as a trench is made the shells begin to drop and the survivors have to begin all over again. Attacks have become almost impossible because in the terrific torments of artillery fire the infantry on either side are unable alike to advance or retreat. Verdun will certainly not be taken from this point.

"I cannot understand how our men are able to keep it up. You are exterminated by our bombs without seeing the enemy. The terrible noise leaves us half stunned. Men look at each other with bewildered eyes. It requires a strong effort of the will to speak to a comrade."

By Associated Press.

ROME, via Paris, May 24.—The Austrian offensive on the Trentino front and the furious efforts of the Germans to gain a decision at Verdun are explained in a semi-official statement published here as the result of a concerted effort on the part of the Central Powers to prevent an unexpected simultaneous attack by the Allies on all fronts.

"The Central Empires," says the statement, "wish to prevent even at the cost of enormous sacrifices men and material from the Allies from seeing the initiative in the war operations and attacking them simultaneously on all fronts. Such is the plan of the Central Powers as revealed by the great Austrian offensive on the Trentino front, while the Germans are repulsing their offensive against Verdun. Germany and Austria aim at securing out France and Italy, counting on the temporary halt in the Russian operations continuing."

CONNELLVILLE STUDENTS ARE GRADUATING IN FORCE*Unusually Large Number of Young People From Here Complete Courses This Spring.

An unusually large number of Connellsville young men and women will graduate from colleges and normal schools this year. A partial list follows:

Milton Bishop, William Rogers and Harold McCarty, from Pennsylvania State College.

Paul Wolf, son of Rev. R. C. Wolf, former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, from Allegheny College.

Malcolm Scott, formerly of town, but now of Pittsburgh, from the University of Michigan.

Misses Loretta Lowrey, Harriet Sparks and Grace Workman, from Indiana State Normal School.

Miss Ruth Robinson, from California State Normal School.

Miss Margaret Herpich, from the kindergarten training department of Oberlin College.

Miss Lillian Wells, from Pennsylvania College for Women.

Miss Gertrude Semberow, from Muskingum College.

Harold Post, from the government forestry school at Mount Alto.

Miss Elizabeth Pendleton, from the Gardner School, New York City.

Miss Eleanor Kenney, from National School of Domestic Science and Arts.

At least a dozen members of the class of 1916 of the high school will go away to school next year, thus keeping the ranks filled.

SAFETY TRAIN COMING

Was in St. Louis Yesterday and Will Reach Here the Middle of June.

The government's "Safety First Train" which yesterday visited St. Louis, is scheduled to circle through a number of cities in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky, arriving in Pittsburgh about the middle of June. It will visit Connellsville on the return trip to Washington shortly after reaching Pittsburgh.

The train was sent to St. Louis for two days in connection with the opening of a safety first week celebration. It consists of a dozen all-steel Baltimore and Ohio cars and is said to be one of, if not the finest train ever put together, representing a valuation of a quarter of a million dollars.

CRAGO DEFENDS

BLAMES THE ARMY*Congressman Says Inspectors are Responsible for Border Fiasco.*EVIDENTLY IGNORED CONDITIONS*Regular Forces Not So Prompt in Getting After Villa That They Can Censure the Guardsmen for Tardiness, Pennsylvania Member Says.

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—With more than one hundred members of the Texas National Guard today threatened with court martial for refusing to respond to the call for service on the Mexican border and with a report before the War Department from General Funston complaining of the slowness of the border state guards in mobilizing for the service of their country, Representative Crago of Pennsylvania, today came to the defense of the state militia.

"The National Guard of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona were not in a position to mobilize quickly," said Mr. Crago, "but that was not their fault. If it was the fault of anybody, the army inspection officers whose duty it is to see that the state troops are in condition for service are to blame. If, as is claimed, the militia of the three states in question were not properly and fully equipped, that was not their fault and steps should have been taken in advance by those guards to see that these national guards had the needed supplies. There is always a certain amount of shortage of equipment due to the fact that more or less material gets lost during encampments and in one way and another, while other material becomes old and unfit for further use."

"Furthermore, the complaint that the state militia of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona has occupied too much time in getting ready for actual service is hardly justified when you compare the time it took the regular army to get ready to chase Villa after the Columbus raid and yet the regular army was there for the specific purpose of defending the border and supposed to be ready at a moment's notice to begin pursuit of an enemy."

It is understood that Mr. Crago is making some inquiries into conditions along the border as they pertain to the national guard question and that after this information is all in hand he may speak on the question in the House.

Representative Crago said that what the Texas, New Mexico and Arizona militia had done in the way of mobilization had done in the way of mobilization.

HUNGRY GIRLS HEAR
LESSON ON FEEDING
THE FIVE THOUSAND

When the Business Women's Christian Association met last night for supper and Bible study in the Methodist Episcopal Church, it was discovered that through a misunderstanding the serving committee had neglected to prepare anything to eat.

After listening to a discourse on the lesson, "Feeding the Five Thousand," the hungry girls adjoined to a restaurant and got something to eat.

VON BUELOW COMINGLondon Hears of Important Mission to the United States.

LONDON, May 24.—The Exchange Telegraph Company says it learns from diplomatic circles that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor, is en route to Washington charged by Emperor William with a special mission.

The Exchange Telegraph Company
also says it understands Prince von Buelow will become ambassador to the United States. This information is said to have been obtained from diplomatic circles in London.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—State Department officials were fairly keeping the accuracy of the report that Prince von Buelow was coming to Washington on a special mission from Emperor William. They have received no official or unofficial intimation that such a visit was in prospect.

IDENTIFY "K ADAMS"Sender of Mysterious Telegram Was New Jersey Woman.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The sender of the mysterious "K. Adams" telegram which has figured in the case of Dr.
Arthur Warren Waite, accused of the murder of his father-in-law, John E.
Peck, millionaire drug manufacturer, was identified as Elizabeth B. Harwick of Somerville, N. J., at Waite's trial today.

This was the telegram sent from New York to Grand Rapids urging Percy Peck to have an autopsy performed on his father's body.

Mrs. Clara Louise Waite faced her husband Dr. Arthur Warren Waite for the first time today when she took the stand as a witness against him.

Mrs. Waite, dressed in mourning, came into the court room so quietly that few observed her as she took a seat behind the jury box while her brother, Percy Peck, was testifying.

HERESY CASE ENDEDPresbyterians Give Warning That Church Tenets Must Be Accepted.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 24.—
The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of America today adopted without debate a report from the committee on bills and overtures warning the New York and all other Pres-byteries that the tenets of the church must be accepted by candidates for the ministry before they should be ordained.

This action, it is believed, ends further discussion in the present Assembly of the alleged heresy question in which the New York presbytery and the Union Theological Seminary are involved.

FACE THE LOCKUP.Texas Guard Snickers May Be Fined and Imprisoned.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The 116
Texas militiamen who refused to respond to the president's call may be both fined and imprisoned. This was revealed here today when Brigadier Enoch H. Crowder, judge advocate general, made a report to Secretary Baker after looking up the law in the case.

Secretary Baker is expected to announce his decision in a few days. It is generally believed that he will rule that the militiamen be tried by court-martial.

EXAMS BEGIN FRIDAY.Finals for the Year Will Commence
That Day and Run into Next Week.

The final examinations in the high school will begin Friday and end sometime in the next week. The students have about finished a review of the work for the last half year and are ready for the finals. The high school examinations will be conducted for four days.

The grade schools are also finishing a review of the work preparatory to closing the school term. The last day of school will be June 2, when the promotion cards will be given out.

OCCUPANTS OF THE

PREPARE TO MOVE*J. A. Armstrong to Build
New Residence at Eastern City Limits.*S. B. DULL BUYS THE GREY HOME*Grocer Occupying Store on Showman
Lot Will Move to Middle of Square
Below; George B. Freed Only One Whose Plans are Not Announced.Occupants of the new high school site at the corner of Prospect street and Fairview avenue are already preparing to vacate. J. A. Armstrong, who sold his property to school board for $11,500 last week will occupy the George Sellers property on Patterson avenue until a new residence which he is planning to build on East Main street is completed. S. B. Dull, who conducts a grocery store in a frame structure on the Showman lot on Fairview avenue, has closed a deal for the purchase of J. E. Grey's home on the square below. He is already planning to transform the property into a storeroom.

School Board has taken over the Showman, Freed and Soloson properties, which occupy part of the high school site, by condemnation and are now awaiting for the court to fix the price. The only one of these that is occupied by a residence is that of George B. Freed, at the corner of Church place and Prospect street. It is not known what Mr. Freed's plans are. Work on the construction of a residence on part of the Showman lot has been discontinued. The Soloson lot is unoccupied.

Architect McCollum of Pittsburgh is preparing plans for a new residence for J. A. Armstrong, to be located at the city limits on the three-acre plot which has frontage on the Mount Pleasant road, the Breakneck road and on East Main street. Part of the property is in the city and part in the township.

Mr. Armstrong will build a brick home of at least nine rooms. The contract will be awarded as soon as the architect's plans are approved.

The Armstrong lot has been in the possession of the family for many years. It originally belonged to Mrs.
Armstrong's ancestors but came into the possession of Mr. Armstrong's father in 1855. Later J. A. Armstrong purchased it from his father's heirs.

EIGHT ARCHITECTS FIGURING ON A NEW METHODIST CHURCH

Old Structure Will Be Entirely Replaced as Finances of Congregation Permit.

Eight architects are preparing competitive sketches for a complete new church for the Methodist Episcopal congregation here. The plans best suited to the needs of the church and its finances will be selected.

An entire new structure is to grace the site now occupied by the church on Apple street and Meadow lane, together with the Beauty-Wilkey property, recently acquired. Whether the Sunday School room will be built first or the church proper, depends upon the suggestions of the building experts now at work on the plans.

If the architect whose plans are selected decides that it would be better to place the main auditorium of the church on the Beauty-Wilkey property, this will be done. If, however, the most feasible plan is to place the Sunday School room on the adjoining property, this plan will be followed.

No time has been set for submitting of the designs and the work will be pushed only so far as the finances of the congregation will permit.

"We are going to have an entire new church eventually," a member of the official board said today, "but we do not propose to burden ourselves with a big debt."

Evidences of dissatisfaction with apparent and it is possible that changes may be made before the Residents of Morrell avenue are

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

The annual reception of the Women's Culture Club yesterday afternoon at the Colonial Inn was attended by about 125 women, including members of the club and their friends. The annual reception is the most important social event of the club year, and yesterday the program was one of unusual interest. The receiving line was composed of Mrs. T. R. Francis, Mrs. S. S. Sander, Mrs. W. R. Clapper, Mrs. Charles Stouffer, Mrs. John B. Davis, and Mrs. A. D. Freed, new officers for the year; Mrs. W. O. Schoonover, Mrs. F. W. Wright, Mrs. J. M. Burbanck, Mrs. John M. Young, Mrs. W. R. Clapper, and Mrs. Harriet Clark, retiring officers. Mrs. Schoonover, the retiring president, introduced Mrs. T. R. Francis, the new president.

The arrangements of the reception were in charge of the social committee, composed of Mrs. J. A. Lyon, Mrs. Charles Stouffer, Miss Lena Kaiz, Mrs. W. A. Bishop, and Mrs. S. S. Sander, while Mrs. W. O. Schoonover provided a musical and literary treat. "The Master of Dreams," a play presented by Miss Viola Semler of Latrobe, a reader, gave her an excellent opportunity to display her wonderful ability as a dramatic reader as she did the following group of readings: "The Sweetest Song," "My Little Boy," "The Throats," and an anonymous humorous reading, "How It All Started." Miss Anderson sang "Invocation to Eros," "Two Roses," and "As I Dreaming." Miss Elizabeth Mac Brown sang "What's in the Air Today," and "Because."

The following committees were appointed by Mrs. T. R. Francis, the president: Program, Mrs. W. O. Schoonover, Miss Mabel Whitehead, Mrs. J. M. Burbanck, Mrs. W. N. Leach, Mrs. W. R. Clapper, Mrs. Sinclair Rogers, Mrs. J. M. Cecil.

Home Economics, Mrs. W. K. Allen, Mrs. W. R. Kenney, and Mrs. Wado Marietta.

Health and hygiene, Dr. Katherine Wakefield, Mrs. F. W. Wright, and Mrs. R. S. McKee.

Conservation, Mrs. E. G. Hall, Mrs. Emma Erbeck, and Mrs. L. C. Lyon.

Industrial conditions of women and children, Mrs. J. D. Marlett, Mrs. W. P. Clark, and Mrs. A. E. Vanuata.

Literature and art, Mrs. J. J. Thompson, Mrs. D. B. Smith, and Mrs. Catherine Williams.

Education, Mrs. J. A. Lyon, Mrs. S. P. Ashe, and Mrs. H. T. Crossland.

Social, Miss Elizabeth Mac Brown, Mrs. John M. Young, Mrs. W. L. Wright, Mrs. J. C. Whiteley, Mrs. J. L. Evans and Miss Pearl Kerr.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. John Chertsey, Mrs. George Gay, Miss Emma Van Swearingen, Mrs. A. E. Jones, Mrs. Harry Whel, Mrs. S. W. Metzler, Miss Ruth Phillips, Miss Nellie Whit, Mrs. A. C. Hagan and Mrs. William McClelland of Uniontown.

At the regular meeting of Business Women's Christian Association held last evening at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, it was decided to continue the meetings throughout the month of June. Supper will also be served. Owing to Tuesday being Memorial Day, no meeting will be held Tuesday night. An interesting study on the book of John, with Mrs. J. F. Kerr the teacher in charge took place. Following the Bible study an entertaining program consisting of a reading by Mrs. L. S. Michael, a vocal solo by the Misses Hicks and a piano solo by Miss Beryl Debbie, was rendered. At the close of the meeting members of the association and Mrs. Kerr had luncheon at the West Penn Tea Room.

A special meeting of the Young Ladies Sodality held last evening in the Parochial school plans for the annual procession and the crowning of the May Queen to take place Sunday night were discussed. Another special meeting of the Sodality will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the school hall and all members are requested to attend.

A successful and entertaining musical was held last evening in the Methodist Protestant Church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. Miss Mary McConnell, Miss Marian Munson, Miss Thelma Hietzel, Mrs. L. S. Michael, Mrs. G. E. Albrecht, Miss Josephine Rinehart, Miss Margaret Gladden, Miss Gertrude Sower, Strawn Robbins, William Robbins, Harry Lewellyn and Walter Huey participated in the program.

A special meeting of the W. O. C. Class called by the teacher, Mrs. L. S. Michael, will be held this evening at the close of the regular prayer service.

At a special meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church held yesterday afternoon in the church arrangements were completed for a supper to be served the men of the church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the church.

Mrs. Lora LaMance, a national organizer and lecturer for the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, lectured yesterday afternoon at the national office of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in South Pittsburgh street. Her subject was "A Message of Hope to Temperance Workers." Last evening she spoke in the First Presbyterian Church on "Christian Citizenship." Both lectures were heard by large audiences.

District No. 14 will meet for Bible study tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Staley in East Main street.

WILL DRILL TOMORROW.
Cade's to Line Up With Company D at Armory Thursday.

Both Company D and the cadet companies will drill tomorrow evening at the armory. Thursday is the regular drill night for Company D, but the cadets usually drill on Wednesday evenings.

As the cadet company needs experienced guides and corporals, however, the drill has been moved up for one evening. Adequate transport of both company men and cadets is desired.

BUYS PROPERTY.
William Dull Will Remove Frame Building on Fairview Avenue.

William Dull has purchased the frame dwelling on Fairview avenue owned by Mrs. George B. Brown and located between the residences of Dr. J. F. Kerr and H. P. Snyder.

Mr. Dull proposes to remove the building from the lot, thereby improving the appearance of that section of Fairview avenue to a considerable degree.

CRAGO DEFENDS NATIONAL GUARD; BLAMES THE ARMY

zation was not to be taken as a standard of the National Guard of the country as a whole. The Pennsylvania National Guard, he asserted, could be mobilized and off to war in two days after the call was issued. In the states which are not so well organized and equipped there cannot as much be asked or expected of these troops.

After the new law, which has passed both Houses and is now before President Wilson for his signature, is in effect, said Mr. Crago, there will be less difficulty in keeping the guard up to the required strength; otherwise the money appropriated to compensate them for their services cannot be expended. It is expected that the President will sign the army bill within the next day or so.

One section of the new act provides that there must be assembly for drill and instruction at least 48 times a year and at least fifteen days a year in encampment, maneuver or other exercises, including outdoor target practice; no credit shall be given for drill or assembly "unless the number of officers and enlisted men present for duty at such assembly shall equal or exceed a minimum to be prescribed by the President." Further, such drill or assembly must be of at least one and a half hour duration, and the character of the training must be such as prescribed by the Secretary of War.

While no final decision has yet been reached in regard to the Texas members of the guard who have refused to take the oath of allegiance and enter the federal service, it is fully expected here that they will be court-martialed, so as to make an example of them and hold them up as a warning to any other guardmen who may have lightly joined the guard without any thought of the obligation to the United States involved.

Myers in Uniontown following an operation which he underwent recently at the Uniontown hospital. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. David Turner of Smithdale; Mrs. George B. Murphy and J. C. Myers of Uniontown; Eliza M. Myers of Bruceton.

STOP THAT ACHE!

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of that pain and lameness. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Many suffering people have used them and know how effective they are. Here is a typical case.

Edward O'Neal, carpenter, Third st., S. Connelville, says: "I was in bed from fall until spring about seven years ago, with kidney trouble. My back pained me so severely that I could hardly move without catching a cold of something and pulling myself up gradually. My doctor treated me for lungbo, but he didn't do me any good. Some of my friends recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a supply. The first box relieved me greatly and before I had finished the second box, I was cured."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that cured Mr. O'Neal. Foster-McIlburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SUFFER NO MORE MISERY FROM PILES

Says Piles May be Quickly Relieved; No Drugs—No Cutting.

You cannot cure piles or hemorrhoids by drying them up with caustic chemicals. You may get a temporary relief but it isn't long before the trouble comes back worse than ever. What is needed is a band, cooling, healing agent like antiseptic Unaniol now being sold by all the better druggists in this vicinity.

Unaniol may be new to you but it is an old, old, friendly aid to many sufferers. One delighted user has just written: "Unaniol is the best pile cure in the world. After all other treatments failed your wonderful ointment quickly brought blessed relief."

Unaniol is a household necessity. It is quickly effective in drawing out the fire and pain from burns and scalds. It immediately stops itching skin, heals cuts, bruises and old sores. All misery stops and the healing begins when Unaniol is applied.

A large 50 cent box can be had from A. A. Clark with absolute guarantee of satisfactory results. No household should be without Unaniol. Buy it today—it will save you pain and trouble.—Adv.

TECHNICAL CLASSES GIVE YOUNG MEN A CHANCE TO SUCCEED

West Penn Planning to Continue Instruction for Those Who Want It.

COURSE IS COMPREHENSIVE

Employees Taught Operation of All Types of Machinery from the Simplest to the Most Complicated; Opportunities for Those Interested.

E. A. Kaplan and Thos. R. Beemer of the Car Shop and the West Penn Station attended the First Annual Engineering Conference at State College May 19 and 20, and have brought back very glowing reports of the enlightened scope of engineering work.

An Address Committee has been appointed in Connelville, composed of educators and men connected with the machine and industries. The Con-nelville schools are represented by Professor S. F. Ashe and all of the large shops are represented on this Address Committee, including the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company,
Connellsville Manufacturing & Mine
Supply Co., Connelville Machine & Cut Co., Boyl & Porter & Co., and the West Penn Power Station and Car
Shop.

The West Penn Company is planning to continue the educational class for employees which they have conducted for several years past. It is proposed to get an experienced instructor to take charge of this work. The present plan of instructing employees in the operation of all types of machinery, from the simplest to the most complicated, will be continued. In addition the employees will be given an opportunity to become familiar with construction and repair work on mechanical and electrical lines. The opportunities offered by the company are such that any person who takes an interest in this class of work and will study along the lines recommended by the company, will become thoroughly familiar with the practical operation of mechanical and electrical equipment of public utilities.

This is a field which is expanding rapidly and the demand for experienced men is increasing every day.
Persons interested in this class of work should get in touch with the Power House Officials, who will advise them more definitely of the opportunities on this line.

Abe Rishkoff.

Henry Powers of Perry township was a recent Uniontown caller.

W. C. Curry was a business caller at Vanderhill Monday evening.

Owing to the increase in business at Dickerson Run the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad is adding another yard crew.

This makes 11 yard crews in the Dickerson Run yards.

Joe Snyder lost 12 young chickens last night which he prized very highly. It is thought that a weasel got into the coop and killed them.

Frank Sweeney of Connelville was a recent Dawson caller.

Mount Pleasant

Special to The Courier
MOUNT PLEASANT, May 24.—Many of the people who own or drive autos in this town are disregarding the law that compels autos not to run past street cars that have stopped on streets. The local officers will take this matter up and all offenders may expect to pay the penalty. Within the past few days several persons have been nearly run over by automobiles coming past the cars just as they stepped from the lower steps.

Zemo for Dandruff

You do not want a slow treatment when hair is falling and the dandruff is killing the hair roots. Delay means no hair.

Get, at any drug store, a bottle of Zemo for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size. Use as directed, for it does the work quickly. It kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the hair roots and immediately stops itching scalp. It is sure and safe, it is fragrant, it is easy to use and will not stain. Soaps and shampoos are harmful, as they contain alkali. The best thing to use is Zemo, for it is pure and also inexpensive.

P.A. wins friends without any side inducements—without any coupons or premiums! The inducement to buy Prince Albert is quality!

Neither national nor state restrictions on the use of premiums or coupons can in any way affect the sale of Prince Albert because its policy has always been for quality!
Coupons or premiums have never been offered as an inducement to smoke it!

Prince Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out bite and parch and lets men smoke pipe-full after pipe-full or the makin's until the gong sounds, without a kick back or a complaint!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Tasty red bags, 5c, 10c, 25c, 50c, 10c, handsome round and half-round tin holders—and in that fine crystal glass pound tins with sponge-mount over too that keep the tobacco in such splendid condition—always!

So it's up to every red-blooded man to jump the boundary line between himself and smoke happiness and know just what all this jimmy-pipe-joy-talk is about!

Men all over the world are today smoking
Prince Albert because it meets their taste; because it gives them real tobacco enjoyment they have never found before!
Don't you realize that if Prince Albert, in a few years, has made three men smoke pipes where one was smoked before, it certainly has the call on you—at least for a try-out!

Why, that's only being fair to yourself!

COMPLETED PLANS FOR OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY

Scottdale Parade to Form at 9 A. M. to Visit All Cemeteries.

ORGANIZATIONS TO PARADE

Patriotic Societies, Firemen, School
Children and Citizens to be in Line;
W. C. T. U. Transmits Much Business at a Special Meeting; News Notes.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, May 24.—J. C. Storck, commander, and Harvey Luker, the adjutant, of Colonel Ellsworth Post No. 209 G. A. R., have completed the following arrangements for next Tuesday's Memorial Day observance. A cordial invitation is extended to all persons who can take part in the parade that will form at the corner of Pittsburgh and Chestnut streets headed by the Grand Army Band, the Civil War, Spanish American Veterans, Sons of Veterans and other patriotic organizations, school children and citizens, with several bands. The procession will form at 9 A. M. and move at 9:30, proceeding in the Scottsdale and St. John's cemeteries where the ritual services will be held and flowers placed on the soldiers' graves, followed by a military salute from a firing squad by the Sons of Veterans. At 1 P. M. a delegation will go in carriages to the Pennsylvanian cemetery and conduct ritual service there and then will proceed to Mount Olive cemetery where a brief service will be held. At 2 P. M. a special committee will go to Mount Zion cemetery where they will honor their dead.

The members of Colonel Ellsworth Post request that all persons who have flowers to donate to the Post to leave them at Porter & Stoner's, at the G. A. R. hall, or at Elcher & Graft's, and that the Post will be very thankful for them. That there will be a large turnout there is no doubt as the Scottsdale firemen have also been asked. The Everson band and firemen have been invited and will likely respond. The various organizations that will attend are making an effort to have a good turnout.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.
The W. C. T. U. in keeping with the time of year when honor is being paid to fallen heroes, held a meeting at the home of Mrs. W. F. Stoner on Mulberry street which was decorated in flags and red, white and blue. Mrs. W. W. Elcher presided at the meeting and Mrs. T. H. Hargens in the devotion. At the business session it was decided to observe flower mission day at the home of Mrs. T. D. Field on June 13 and at this time to send a box to the children's home at Williamsburg. This will contain children's clothing, fruits, vegetables and other things. So many requests have come in for another silver medal contest that the ladies decided to hold one some time in June. The arrangements for the giving of flowers to soldiers and sailors was completed. Mrs. Colborn had charge of the program. Mrs. W. W. Elcher gave a talk on "Sowing Seed in All Waters," telling of the good the W. C. T. U. has done for the soldiers and sailors all over the world. Mrs. Reynolds gave an excellent reading, "You Placed No Flowers on My Papa's Grave."

TO MEET IN CHURCH.
The executive committee of the Scottdale Sunday School Association held a meeting in the Methodist Episcopal Church and decided to meet at Wesley Chapel some Sunday evening in the near future.

NO SOUP LINE YET

Not Enough Prisoners Arrested At Once for It To Be Started.
Although Chief of Police Rottler and City Clerk A. O. Bixler intended to feed the chain gang sentenced to street work by the mayor this week from one large soup pot, not enough men have been arrested over one night to start the line. Last week it cost the city about $15 a day for three days and it was thought that the price could be brought down if one pot was used and the men all served from it. Last week the gang ran between 15 and 18 men, but one dose of street work was sufficient for most of the prisoners and they are not returning as quickly as they did when only a 15 hour sentence was handed out. Much work was done last week however and it is figured that the men more than paid their board.

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Words of Encouragement to Childless Women.

Motherhood is woman's natural destiny, but many women are denied the happiness of children simply because of some curable derangement.

Among the many triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its marvelous power to overcome such derangements, as evidenced by the following letter:—

Worcester, Mass.—"I suffered from female ill, and was advised to have an operation, but a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and who has six children, told me to try it. It has helped me so much that I am now well and have a baby boy who is the picture of health, and I thank the Vegetable Compound for my restoration to health."

Compound for my restoration to health.
—Mrs. BEAT GARVEY, 20 Hacker St., Worcester, Mass.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Chief Roderick Recommends Regulation of Coal Output to Demand.

James E. Roderick, chief of the State Bureau of Mines, in a review of the state's coal mining operations just issued, declares that "it would be a fortunate thing for the trade if no new operations were started during the next five years and existing operations could be controlled to meet the demands of the market."

This statement is made in the course of a discussion of the movement now being worked out to restrict the state's bituminous coal trade, which the chief says, would remove the danger of overproduction and breaks in prices which affect both operators and men.

After Your Child's Bath You Should Use Nothing But

Sykes Comfort

because nurses and mothers have learned after twenty years experience that its habitual use, after the bath, keeps children's skin free from irritation and soreness.

It is agreeable to the most delicate skin, and is the only powder that should be used every day on infants and children, as a great deal of skin soreness is caused by the use of highly perfumed powders. Mother's own toilet powder is not adapted to the delicate skin of a child, while Comfort Powder is especially made for children.

Sykes' Comfort Powder is not a plain talcum powder, but a highly medicated preparation, which if used daily will keep a child's skin smooth, healthy, free from odors, chafing, itching and all irritations. At Drug and Dept. Stores, 25c.

THE RIVER MINERS MAY REPUDIATE WAGE AGREEMENT

Dissatisfied Over Terms Allowed by District Officers.

QUIT WORK; CALL CONVENTION

Which is Now in Session To Consider Outing Officers or Providing for Some Means of Getting Rid of Objectionable Provisions in Agreement.

It is generally expected that the action of the delegates to the special convention of the Monongahela river miners to be held tomorrow at Monongahela will result in a repudiation of the wage agreement recently entered into by the union representatives and the operators.

In some cases past several months involved in the settlement have been the subject of more or less controversy. The first which grew out of the charge on part of the miners that the union had provided for the sale of a new mine, made operative, was abandoned without action. A more serious situation has developed because of the contention over certain provisions of the agreement. It is expected that for considering the running of the mine, the operators have agreed to change which may be made to the miners for powder and explosives and other items. Any advance in the price for these articles is being very strongly resisted by the miners. The feeling over the matter reached that stage during the past few days when the men at 37 miles from the valley quit work pending the outcome of the convention which meets tomorrow.

The men charge that the district officers are wholly to blame for the dissatisfaction which has arisen. They charge that the authority in granting concessions to the operators on the points in question when the settlement was made, the more radical favoring the district officers and repudiating the agreement made by them. Others are working to bring about a settlement through the intervention of the national officers.

By the agreement signed in New York, following the conference April district or internal affairs were left to the districts for settlement. The agreement covering the settlement of district affairs, entered into by the district officers with the operators' association is the bone of contention.

A notice sent out on May 18 from district headquarters called for a referendum of the miners upon the agreement and discussion of it. It offered up so much indignation that on May 15 another notice was sent out postponing the referendum vote "until a better understanding of its import" could be given to the several local unions comprising the district.

Meanwhile meetings were held at the different works and the men voted to quit work and demanded that a district convention be called. If at this gathering the contract made by the union officials fails of approval, the district will be without a working agreement. Ordinarily this would necessitate another conference being held between the miners and the operators. If the contract of the conservative element prevails an effort will be made to secure the aid of the international officers in negotiating a compromise agreement which will be submitted to the miners for approval. There is no assurance that such an outcome will result from the convention tomorrow, inasmuch as the miners are in a state of great dissatisfaction and will demand that many of the concessions allowed the operators by the first agreement be withdrawn. Until a satisfactory solution is reached the likelihood of a large number of mines is certain to continue.

The trouble arising from the wage provisions is not being confined to the Monongahela valley. Meetings have been held at Sutersville on the Young river and at Canonsburg and McDonald in Washington county, where the same action was taken as at the mines along the Monongahela.

VIOLET MERSEREAU IN THE GREAT PROBLEM

SOISSON PHILADEL.

THE GREAT PROBLEM—The charming actress, Violet Mersereau, appears at the Soisson Theatre today in the five reel drama, "The Great Problem." It is an impelling story of a young girl steeped in crime who has been arrested for picking pockets and her redemption. The story will have their day in "The Great Problem" with Violet Mersereau playing the role of a graduate pick-pocket direct from the slums. While this is a subject that is frequently, if not, gets into films, the purpose of the picture is to shed an encouraging light upon various phases of crime and the incidents form a part of the lesson. "The Mark of a Gentleman" is a two reel Gold Seal drama featuring Herbert Rawlinson and "Brownie" Vernon. It is an interesting story of a society man who assumes the life of a physical trainer. Later he meets a wealthy girl and finally marries her. She does not find out until after they are married that he is a "gentleman." "My Buddie" is a two reel comedy with Reginald Morris and Gertrude Selby in the cast. Miss Briggs leaves home and Mr. Briggs starts out to have a good time, but has a hard time equalling himself. "Potts Bungle" again, is a two reel comedy with Leo Moran and Doty Compton in the leading roles. Leo Moran as "Bungle" is again tomorrow the third episode of the interesting serial, "The Iron Claw," with Pearl White.

GLORI PHILADEL.

"THE HOME BREAKERS"—A three part Knickerbocker feature is being presented today at the Globe.

LEADERS OF AUSTRIAN AND ITALIAN ARMIES

LABORNA (above) and von Hoetzendorf

High among the men prominent in the development of the newly assumed Austro-Hungarian offensive on the Italian-Austrian front and the Italian opposition are General Laborna, commander in chief of the Italian army, General Sanderson and his wife Linda, start life in a small way in a small cottage on the outskirts of a city. While Gerald is at work Linda suffers from an old man's neighbor who lives in the next door and who is in the need of help. Linda responds to their needs and while she is unable to save the life of the child she succeeds in bringing some comfort to her before she dies. Thereby she wins the everlasting gratitude of the child's father who attaches himself to the Sanderson household as a servant. Sometime later Gerald inherits a large fortune through the death of a distant relative. He and Linda move into the city and also into the old man who becomes a butler in their new establishment. Gerald becomes active on the stock exchange. Wilson Crane learns Sanderson's rise to fortune and determines to get a hold on him if possible. Crane decides to work through Sanderson's wife as well as to sow suspicion in her mind. In the meantime he manages to introduce Sanderson to an adventuress in hopes that she may be able to seduce him. At this time Gerald is in the midst of a big stock campaign and Crane takes the advantage of this by offering to prove to his wife Linda, that he is faithful to her. "The Lioness" is a two reel comedy with Leo Moran and Doty Compton in the leading roles. Leo Moran as "Bungle" is again tomorrow the third episode of the interesting serial, "The Iron Claw," with Pearl White.

Speaker's Real Value Proved by Showing of Two Clubs.

HE HAS MADE CLEVELAND.

True Presence and Ability Are Pushing Indians Pennantward—Boston Minors the Great Outfielder and Appears to Lack Its Old Time Dash Other Baseball Notes

What a wonderful difference just one man makes in a ball club is proved by the rather discouraging showing the Boston Red Sox are making this spring with Speaker in the Cleveland lineup instead of in that of Boston.

Speaker was as valuable a man for the Cardinals as Cobb was for the Tigers and to see such an asset was certain to leave a gap in the team's works not easily repaired. The Red Sox without Speaker are an entirely different aggregation from what they were. This was a doubt which seemed able to get most any sort of a drive in his territory regardless of to what side of him it was hit. It was this remarkable ability in the field which saved many of the opponents' defeats not to speak of how much of a figure he cut in every game at the bat.

Speaker has made Cleveland right now the Indians are the sensation of the American League. He has put the pop into the Cleveland club, just what it has needed. Speaker is a wonder.

It is understood that Ben Johnson will leave a role being the wrinkle ball which Danforth of the Chicago White Sox has been using. It was this peculiar delivery which made Danforth a great pitcher in the American association last year, he striking out more men than any other pitcher. He tried to use this delivery against the Tigers and they have appealed to President Johnson to stop it, claiming it has just the same effect as an enemy ball. Naturally the big leagues do not want to give the pitchers any further advantage over the batters and any sort of delivery made possible by artificial methods will not be tolerated by the authorities.

The Cincinnati club needs pitchers and has succeeded in convincing George Stallings that he can spare Knickerbocker, the former Pittsburgh pitcher who was purchased last winter. Stallings got a good price for Knickerbocker, whom he feared he did not need. Herrold also needs an insider and outfielder before his team will really start in the present race but it will be no easy matter to get the needed material for the club, which have them are apt to be chary about disposing of them. With pitchers it is different. They always are in much order to acquire than players for other positions.

Facts Versus Fallacies

FACT is a real state of things. FALLACY is an apparently genuine but really illogical statement or argument.

ONE of the most glaring FALLACIES that Prohibitionists depend upon to mislead the public has been the declaration that nearly all crime has resulted from indulgence, or overindulgence, in liquors. A writer in the Cincinnati Times-Star has not only taken the trouble to show, from Government statistics, that the greatest of crimes, murder, has been on the increase in this country, but the additional FACT that it is in Prohibition States where murders have been most prevalent.

MEMPHIS in "dry" Tennessee leads all cities in this country in the number of murders during 1915—a percentage of 83.7 per 100,000 of population. Here is an interesting list, comparing both "wet" and "dry" cities:

Percentage of Murders per 100,000 of Population
"DRY" CITIES	"WET" CITIES
Memphis, Tenn. 83.7	Pittsburgh, Pa. 3.3
Charleston, S. C. 32.7	Philadelphia, Pa. 4.2
Savannah, Ga. 25.4	Reading, Pa. 3.5
Atlanta, Ga. 23	Newark, N. J. 3
Louisville, Ky. 18.6	Milwaukee, Wis. 2.4

THEREFORE, from another point of view upon misrepresentation of liquor are the FALLACIES of Prohibitionists blown to the four winds, when the light of FACT is taken from official Government reports. And these reports show that there are significantly less murders committed in cities where the sale of liquors is licensed and regulated by law, than in States and communities where Prohibition prevails.

It was an enormous publicity move, worthy of a theatrical press agent, and it succeeded beyond the promoter's fondest expectations—too well, in fact, for it drove the trust in desperation to an alliance with the S. R. and N.

The day set for the demonstration came, the citizens of Cortez boldly marched into Beaver canyon to take possession of the old fieldman's works, but it appeared that they had reckoned prematurely. A handful of gruff-faced trust employees warned them back, there was a rush, some rough work on the part of the aggressors, and then the guards brought their weapons into play. The result, according to Gordon, was a sensational material than he had hoped for; one citizen was killed and five others were badly wounded. Cortez, dazed and horror-stricken, arose in her wrath and descended upon the 'assassins.' Lynch-laws were planned and mobs threatened the local jail, until soldiers were hurried thither and martial law was declared.

Of course the wires were burdened with the accounts; the reading public of the States awoke to the fact that a bitter strife was waging in the north between honest miners and the soulless fieldman syndicate. Gordon's previously written and carefully colored stories of the clash were printed far and wide. Editorials brooded indignation at such lawlessness, and pointed to the Cortez Home railway as a commendable effort to destroy the fieldman's throttle hold upon the northland. Stock subscriptions came in a deluge which fairly engulfed Gordon's Seattle office.

During this brief white hot campaign the promoter had been actuated as much by his senseless hatred of O'Neil as by lust of glory and gain, and it was with no little satisfaction that he returned to Alaska conscious of having dealt a telling blow to his enemy. The sent Natalie to Omar on another visit in order that he might hear at first hand how O'Neil had been misled. But his complacency received a shock when the girl returned. He had no need to question her.

"But this can't be true," stammered Gordon.

"Uncle Curtis," she began excitedly, "you ought to stop these terrible newspaper stories about Mr. O'Neil and the trust."

"Stop them? My dear, what do you mean?"

"He didn't sell out to the trust. He has nothing to do with it."

"What?" Gordon's incredulity was a challenge.

"He sold to an Englishman named Ellis, they seem to be amused by your mistake over there at Omar, but I think some of the things printed are positively criminal. I know you'd want the truth."

"The truth, yes. But this can't be true," stammered Gordon.

"It is Mr. O'Neil did try to interest the fieldmen, but they wouldn't have anything to do with him, and the S. R. and N. was going to smash when Mr. Ellis came along."

"The truth, yes. But this can't be true," stammered Gordon.

"It is Mr. O'Neil did try to interest the fieldmen, but they wouldn't have anything to do with him, and the S. R. and N. was going to smash when Mr. Ellis came along."

"The truth, yes. But this can't be true," stammered Gordon.

one connected with the fieldmen. "What about this blackmail?" said her husband, upon whose ear the word had made a welcome impression.

"Neither do I," Natalie confessed, "but I know you have made a mistake that ought to be set right."

"Why doesn't he come out with the truth?"

"The whole thing is secret."

Natalie shrugged helplessly, and Gordon lost himself in frowning thought.

"This is amazing," he said brusquely after a moment. "It's vital. It affects all my plans. I must know everything at once."

"I'm sorry I paid so little attention."

"Never mind. Try it again, and be diplomatic. If O'Neil won't tell you question Appleton. You can find him around your fingers easily enough. I am sure."

The girl eyed him with a quick change of expression.

"Isn't it enough to know that the trust has nothing to do with the S. R. and N.?"

"No," he declared impatiently. "I must know the whole inside of this secret understanding—this blackmail or whatever it is."

"Then I'm sorry."

"Comel. Don't be silly. You can do me a great service."

"You said you no longer disliked Mr. O'Neil and that he couldn't harm you."

"Well, well! Must I explain the why and wherefore of every move I make?"

"It would be spring if I went back. That matter is confidential. I know that."

"Will you do as I ask?" he demanded.

Natalie answered him firmly. "No! I told you what I did tell only so that you might correct."

"You rebel, eh?" Gordon spoke out furiously.

He strode angrily from the room, leaving Natalie staring out upon the bleak fall scene, her shoulders very straight, her breast heaving. Gloria did not venture to address her.

Fortunately for the peace of all concerned, Gordon left for Seattle on the next steamer. Neither of the women believed that Natalie's fragmentary revelation was the cause of his departure, but, once in touch with outside affairs, he lost no time in running down the clues he had gathered, and it was not long before he had learned enough to piece the truth together. Then he once more brought his investigation into use.

The first winter snows found O'Neil's truck laid to the bridge site and the structure itself well begun. He had moved his office out to the front and now saw little of Eliza, who was busied in writing her book. She had hatched her magazine articles, and they had been accepted, but she had given him no hint as to their character.

One afternoon Happy Tom burst in upon his chief, having hastened out from Omar on a construction train. Drawing a Seattle paper from his pocket, he began excitedly:

"Well, the facts in the O'Neil-S. R. and N. case are being blown up the whole North Pass story."

O'Neil seized the newspaper and scanned it hurriedly. He looked up, seething.

"Who gave this out?" he inquired in a harsh voice.

Gordon shrugged. "It's in the Cortez Courier, too, so I suppose came from Gordon. Blessings come from one source, and Gordon's the fountain of all evil. I'm getting so I blame him for everything unpleasant."

"Where did he learn the inside of this deal? By heaven, there's a leak somewhere!"

"He uncovered it back there in the States."

Murray shook his head. "Nobody knows anything about it except you boys."

Then he seized the telephone at his elbow and called Dr. Gray, while Tom listened with his shivering forehead poked anxiously. O'Neil hung up with a blank face.

"Appleton," he said.

Tom looked, if possible, a shade gloomier than usual. "I wouldn't be too sure it was Dan if I was you," he ventured doubtfully.

"Where is he?" O'Neil ground out the words between his teeth.

"Sitting in the town site addition. He let anything slip it was by mistake."

"Mistake! I won't employ people who make mistakes of that kind. This story may bring the Canadian government down on him and forfeit his North Pass charter, to say nothing of our authorities. That would finish him."

He rose, went to the door and ordered the recently arrived engine uncoupled, flinging himself into his fur coat and he growled:

"I'd much rather have a crook punch me than a fool. Appleton told me he talked too much."

CHAPTER XVII.

O'Neil Verifies Suspicion.

His locomotive had been switched out by this time, and O'Neil hurried to board it. On his way to Omar he had time enough to weigh the results of this unexpected complication. His present desire was merely to verify his suspicion that Appleton had told his secret to Natalie. Beyond that he did not care to think, for there was but one course open.

His anger reached the blazing point across his arched brows. As he stepped down from the engine cab Gray silently handed him a code message from London which had arrived a few moments before. When its contents had been deciphered O'Neil cursed, and he was furious as he stumbled through the dark toward the green bungalow on the hill.

Swinging around the corner of the house, he came into a bright radiance which streamed forth from Eliza's window, and he could not help seeing the interior of the room. She was there, waiting busily, and he saw that she was clad in the elaborate kimono which he had given her. Yet it was not her personal appearance which arrested his angry eyes and caused his step to halt. It was, instead, her surroundings.

He had grown to accept her prim simplicity as a matter of course and never suspected that in his thoughts with anything fatal, but the room as it lay before him now was a revelation of daintiness and artistic decoration. Tasteful water colors hung on the walls, a warm rug was on the floor, and everywhere were rays of color.

"The pink white bed had been transformed into a couch of oriental luxury. A lace spread of white textile covered the floor, and there were hidden beneath billowing masses of ruffles and ribbons. He saw a typical woman's crazy corner piled high with cushions. There was a jar of burning incense sticks near the doorway, and in fact, was utterly at variance with his notions of the owner. Even the girl herself seemed transformed, for her hair was brought forward around her face in a long, wavy, cascading fashion, which gave her a bewitchingly girlish appearance.

O'Neil's eyes photographed all this in a single surprised glance as he passed the next moment he was mounting the steps to the porch.

Dan flung open the door, but his words of greeting found O'Neil's smile of welcome, and he saw the girl's forbidding visage.

Murray was in no mood to waste words. He began roughly:

"Did you tell Miss Gerard that Pontney Ellis is blackmailing me?"

Dan stammered: "I—perhaps—I—What has gone wrong, chief?"

"Did you tell her the inside—the story of his agreement with the steam boat people?"

Dan paled beneath his tan, but his eyes met Murray's without flinching. "I think I did—tell her something. I don't quite remember. But anything I may have said was in confidence."

"I thought so. I merely wished to make certain. Well, the whole thing is in the papers."

Appleton laid his hand upon the table to steady himself.

"Then it didn't come from her. She wouldn't."

"Gordon has spread the story broadcast. It couldn't have come from any other source. It couldn't have reached him in any other way, for some of his boys have been at work. His voice was a hoarse effort at self-control.

"This agreement was illegal, he said outright. 'It will probably forfeit the charter of the North Pass and land him in court. I suppose you realize that.' I discovered his secret and assured him it was safe with me. Now you peddle it to Gordon and the whole thing is public. Here's the first result. He shook the London cablegram in Dan's face, and his own was distorted with rage. There was a wail in Eliza's room which neither noticed. Appleton wiped his face with uncertain hand. He mistook his lips to say:

"I'm not really sorry. But I am sure Natalie wouldn't spy. I don't remember what I told her or how I came to know about the affair. Doc Gray told me. I think, in the first excitement, but she wouldn't know that."

Gordon fired you for talking too much. I thought you had learned your lesson. It seems to me that you don't know loyalty belongs to Gordon now. But I regard loyalty too. Since you lack it you can go."

O'Neil turned as Eliza's door opened. She stood before him, pale, frightened, trembling.

"I couldn't help hearing," she said. "You must go."

"I'm sorry," he said. "I've trusted my boys so implicitly that the thought of betrayal by them never occurred to me. I can't have more close to me who make such mistakes as this."

"Perhaps there was an excuse or the shadow of one, at least. When a man is in love, you know."

Murray pointed upon Dan and demanded sharply:

"What's this?" Then in a potter's big altered tone he asked, "Do you love Natalie?"

"Yes."

"Does she love you?"

"No, sir."

O'Neil turned back to the girl, saying: "I told Dan when I hired him that he would be called upon to dare much to suffer, much that his intentions must be his. He has disgraced them and he must go. That's all there's left of difference between treachery and cowardice."

He left them standing there unpreparedly dumb and still with shame. Once outside the house he plunged down the hill as if fleeing from the scene of some crime. He rushed through the night blindly, for he had loved his assistant engineer, and the memory of that child faced, sturdied girl hurt him abominably.

"To think that I spent the best part of two years studying this spot!"

Why that's loyalty of the finest kind. All the money they had saved, too, when they thought I had failed! I wonder what they think of me. I can't let Dan go after that. I—He seized his cap and hurried out of the building.

"It's hardly right—when things were going so well, too," said Dan. He was sitting crumpled up in a chair. Eliza's arm encircled his shoulders. "I didn't mean to give up my secrets, but I'm not myself when I'm with Natalie."

"We must take our medicine," his sister told him gravely. "We deserve it, for this story may spoil all he's done. I didn't think of her, though."

Dan growled and bowed his head in his hands. "I don't know which hurts worse," he said. "His anger or her action. She—couldn't do such a thing."

"You told them so?"

O'Neil nodded.

"And they said nothing?"

"Nothing. What could they say?"

Gray answered gruffly: "They might

"You told them so?"

O'Neil nodded.

"And they said nothing?"

"Nothing. What could they say?"

In many instances—persons have suffered untold agony for years due to nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

New York N. Y.—In a recent issue of Dr. De Sauro, a well known Specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, how to tell if you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill. He would probably be greatly surprised to find that the blood of many of our people is so poor that they are unable to live on it. The blood is so poor that it is unable to carry food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good. You do not get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like coin through a mill which can't grind. As a result of this condition blood and nerve weakness, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin. Another is burdened with obesity. Fat men are so weak they can hardly walk. Some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble, some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day, some are fussy and irritable, some shivery and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your fading vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can walk or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron, three or four after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the time double and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days. I am simply by taking iron in the proper form, and you after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonder a new unit by new remedy, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of iron, iron acetate, etc., often caused people to feel sick, and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the new form of iron, Nuxated Iron, all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any Christian Scientist if they cannot take any man or woman under forty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by A. A. Clark and all other druggists—Adv.

she just couldn't."

"She probably didn't realize she hasn't much sense, you know. But after all she's suffered, to think that she should injure him! I could cry."

The door opened before a rough hand, and O'Neil strode into the room, huge, shaggy in his conical coat and they rose startled, but he came to them swiftly, a look of mingled shame and gladness in his face. "See! how long you can walk or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next splendid. It touched me, and I—I want to apologize. You see, I hurried right back."

They saw that his eyes were moist, and at the sight Eliza gave a quivering cry, then turned swiftly to hide her face. She felt O'Neil's fur clad arm about her shoulder. His hand was patting her, and he was saying gently: "You are a dear child. It was tremendously good of you both, and I ought to be shot for acting as I did. I wonder if you can accept a wretched apology as bravely as you accepted a wrong accusation."

"It wasn't wrong. It was right," she sobbed. "Dan told her, and she told Gordon."

"There, there! I was to blame, after all, for letting any one know, and if awkwardly, for his sister was motioning him desperately to be silent. But he man on. Oh he ought to know the whole truth and how miserably facted, sis! I deserve to be discharged."

"Please don't make this any harder for me than it is. Murray smiled. "I'm terribly embarrassed for I'm not used to apologies. I can't afford to be angry. I have so few friends that I

POLICE SUFFICIENT CENSORS OF MOVIES, CONGRESSMAN SAYS

Representative, Dallinger Strong in Denunciation of Federal Supervision.

MINORITY REPORT SUBMITTED

Majority Members Have Approved
Federal Commission for Censorship of Movies but Decision is Not Unanimous; Three Members Dissent.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Minority members of the committee on education are prepared to submit, to the House of Representatives, a report opposing the bill which other members of the committee have approved providing for the appointment of a federal commission of censorship on motion pictures.

An American, violation of free press and free speech, inefficient and dangerous from every point of view, these are some of the terms which the minority use in expressing their opposition to any such board of censorship. Three of the members of the committee, Dallinger, Massachusetts; Powers, Kentucky; and Platt, New York; and one Democrat, Rucker, Missouri, have signed the minority report.

Mr. Dallinger in denouncing on the matter said that while he was as much opposed as anybody to the exhibition of indecent and immoral pictures, he was of the opinion that the existing police powers of the states were the means which should be allowed to suppress improper pictures. He thought there should be also an amendment to the federal criminal code prohibiting the interstate transportation of objectionable films.

Representative Dallinger spoke of the effect of Uncle Tom's Cabin in bringing home to the American people the evils of human slavery, and added: "How much more quickly and more effectively do the same things would have been accomplished if the moving picture art had been in existence at that time." He said that if there had been a Federal Censorship Board at that time it was very doubtful whether the film depicting Uncle Tom's Cabin would have been allowed. The slave owning interests would have had enough political influence on the board to have stopped the film from being shown. Similarly today, Mr. Dallinger said, such a board of motion picture censorship might prevent many films from being shown because of political or other influences brought to bear on the board. Child-labor films, for instance, he said, might be kept from the view of the public.

The report declares that the bill violates the principle of the constitutional guaranty of a free press. It denies to the public the very utility in this wonderful new art, which made it necessary to keep the press free. It gives a few men despotic control for an art which at the very threshold of its development has power to influence more than 20,000,000 people every day, the report adds. It completes the vicious circle by making it inevitable that the powerful moving-picture industry, already the fourth greatest in the country, will be precipitated into politics and used for political purposes. The party in power; the extraordinary power vested in the commission proposed to be created by this bill will not only prove ineffective to protect public morals, as experience has shown, but it is utterly un-American in its character and in the highest degree dangerous from every point of view, says the report.

The history of the attempt to censor moving picture films, the report points out, is close analogy to the history of the attempt to abridge the freedom of speech and of the press. In Pennsylvania, for instance, says the report in this connection, the power of the censor was invoked to suppress "The Battle Cry of Peace" on the ground that it tended toward a breach of neutrality and to incite military spirit. It points also to Ohio the case being cited where it appeared in evidence before the committee that a motion-picture play depicting a manufacturer's beautiful in character which advertised himself, but who was hard on his employees, was suppressed on the ground that it tended to incite class feeling.

Do we dare, the report asks, to put in the control of an executive board such an extraordinary power—a power to suppress a medium of thought expression which in this country alone speaks to 20,000,000 people every day.

USE SKATING RINK

West Side Boys Have Free Skating Every Afternoon and Evening. Since the closing of the roller skating rink on the West Side about two weeks ago, the building with its hard wood floor has been the headquarters of all the youngsters in the vicinity of it. When the manager left he sold roller bearing skates at a cheap price to several of the boys who often helped him in the rink. One of these possessors of the key to the building and each afternoon the Greenwonders go to the rink for a skate.

The boys admit anyone to the building who helps in an orderly manner and every night it is locked up. There is some talk among the older people on the West Side of holding a skating party in the rink. The rink is under Councilman John Dugan's supervision and his permission has been secured. Candles would be used for light instead of turning electricity into the building.

AN EASY WAY TO INCREASE WEIGHT

Good Advice For Thin Folks.

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with grossy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regeneration, re-construction powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. All leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee fund in every package.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Adv.

NEED OF ERIE CANAL

Shown by Steel Plant Developments

Where Transportation is Cheap.

Some criticism has been directed against the United States Steel Corporation in its policy of making its most extensive plant improvements at points outside of the Pittsburgh district. This has been answered by an officer of the corporation who says:

"No criticism can be made of any corporation for following a fixed law of trade that expansion and flow of commerce is greatest along the line of least resistance, and the line of least resistance is marked out by the lowest cost of transportation. It is true that the United States Steel Corporation is obeying this law and spending more money to extend its plants at other points than in the Pittsburgh, Mahoning and Shenango Valley districts as the direct result of the growth of greater economic conditions in transportation affecting the assembly of raw materials and the distribution of manufactured products, while the districts in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Northern West Virginia are still subject to the high cost of transportation which necessarily prevails in any community served by railroads alone unaided by modern waterways.

"This trend of the United States Steel Corporation is the natural and logical result of this condition. Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Northern West Virginia having the greatest coal deposits in the world should for all time be established as the best location in the world for economic assembly of raw materials and widest distribution of finished product.

"The canal connecting Lake Erie and the Ohio River is intended to provide the economic condition for this section where, as a result of our other natural resources of fuel, etc., have been built up the greatest iron and steel industries in the world, so that they can enjoy the largest field in competition with similar industries located elsewhere."

Note of Thanks.

Miss Anna Kelly of Dunbar wishes to thank her many friends who assisted her in winning a diamond ring in the prize contest conducted by The Courier.—Adv.

New Talking Machine Records

If you want brand-new music, just off the press and untried by time, you may not care for that lovely old melody "Scenes That Are Brightest" from the Gypsy opera, "Marta."

But give to use this gentle, flowing melody and we find ourselves laughing in the sun; dreaming of meadow larks; and drinking in the perfume of field roses.

It is splendidly played as a violin, harp and flute trio on one of the new Columbia records.

There's many an "Old Grad" who will enjoy reviewing his troop of college memories as they come marching by to the tune of "My Last Glimpse," a new record by the Columbia Company.

It's a good old college song and given with vim and vigor by the Broadway Quartette. There is no accompaniment, just the fine old harmonies as we used to hear them when the crowd collected on "chapel steps" or "under the Elms" songs that set a fellow back on the path of life some fifteen or twenty years.

From the opera "Boris Godunov," the Columbia Company has selected that brilliant and popular piece of music the "Polonaise," a Russian dance, for a very excellent record. Russian music is obtaining a firm foothold in this country despite the fact that much of it is somber, with a deep underlying note of ominous revolt.

And in this dashing dance—the "Polonaise"—we feel the tense grip that characterizes all Slavonic music, but it is in lighter, gayer vein: it pictures a big and evolving people at their play.

DAVIDSON ELECTS OFFICERS.

First Game to be Played Saturday.

To Hold Festival.

The Davidson baseball team elected officers for the year at a meeting held Monday evening at the office of the H. C. Frick Coke Company at Davidson. George Rosemeck was elected manager and Andrew Leach, captain. Mr. Sidehammer was elected secretary and treasurer.

The first game of the season will be played Saturday at Davidson with Adelaide as the attraction. After the game a festival for the benefit of the team will be held.

TROTTER LOSES GAME.

Lisenring No. 2 Team Wins Easily

By Score of 8 to 1.

The Lisenring No. 2 team defeated the Trotter nine at Trotter last evening 8-1. The Lisenring No. 2 team is a fast bunch and the same crack aggregation that played last year is again in the field.

The Trotter team is playing good baseball this year also, but too many errors lost the game last evening.

Recommend Chamberlain's. "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, having used it in my family for the past thirteen years. I have tried other remedies, but Chamberlain's is the only one that gave me permanent relief. We are never without it even when on a visit or summer outing, and I cannot say too much in praise of it," writes Emerson Demore, Harpersville, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

JUST TRY THIS BIGGEST OF ALL CHEW VALUES

You'll Say "American Navy"
Is the Best Chew You Ever Tasted

GET A BIG, GENEROUS CUT

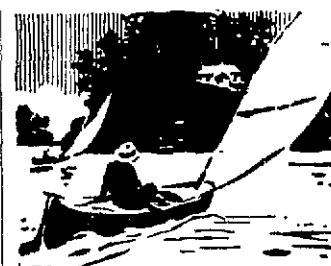

You'll never know how tasty and delightful a chew can be until you try American Navy plug. There's a leafy freshness in its taste that completely satisfies your tobacco appetite.

American Navy is made of whole leaf—choice rice, carefully selected, not of loose cuttings and clippings.

And the leaf is pressed into plugs, forcing the delicious juices evenly through the plug, without losing a single drop.

That is why American Navy is so full of the choicest flavor—why every chew of it is such a pleasure.

Get a big, generous cut of American Navy from your dealer. 5c and 10c cuts.

Your
"Treasure Island"

You can own one, with boats, cannons and what not, a variable "treasure island" with a golden store of health, of enjoyment under its pine covered roof with the wind blowing through their tall tops. All this is to be had in the 30-cent fairyland of Teenie Bays. Let us tell you about it.

Point au Baril

The center for summer homes and camps in this summerland—excellent hotels and good boarding houses here; swimming, fishing, canoeing, sailing, motor boating, or just vegging.
